Jewish Enrichment through the Arts

NEW at the JCC of Greater Washington

For Children Grades K-2

September 2014-May 2015 | 26 Sessions, Sunday Mornings, 10 am-12 noon

Arts Alive is an interactive, Jewish educational experience that will foster positive Jewish identity, nurture a love for Jewish life and learning, and inspire a passion for the arts from a young age. Our arts-inspired, experiential program will facilitate imagination, expression, and creativity, in a dynamic, hands-on, multi-disciplined Jewish learning environment. Children will have a multitude of opportunities to explore Jewish holidays, culture, values, language, history and traditions in a warm and nurturing environment, through art, music, dance, movement, drama, storytelling, cooking, and more. Opportunities for parent and family involvement will complement the program, foster relationships and build community.

Lisa Ginsburg Arber, JCCGW's Director of Arts Alive, Jewish Enrichment Through the Arts, brings a great deal of enthusiasm and expertise to this new and innovative program that explores age appropriate Jewish learning through the arts.

Lisa has worked, for over 30 years, as a Jewish educator, teacher mentor, program coordinator, Israeli folk dance instructor, and Judaic storyteller. Her professional experience includes a variety of positions in preschool and religious school environments, the Jewish camping movement, youth group organizations, area synagogues, and here at the JCCGW.

Through Arts Alive, Lisa hopes to provide an optimum environment where children, from different Jewish backgrounds, can come together as a community to celebrate Jewish learning. She is excited to bring her unique approach to Jewish education by merging experiential education with an arts inspired curriculum.
